Summary: A fic about Obi-Wan and his thoughts about the Clone Wars

Peace

Here's a short song fic about Obi-Wan and the Clone Wars. Sorry if the song doesn't fit the Star Wars Universe perfectly.

>Disclaimer: I don't own Star Wars or this song. This is for entertainment purposes only so don't sue me.

A small ship flew across the sky with Obi-Wan Kenobi in the cockpit flying towards to Naboo. He sighed and brushed his fingers through his hair. Slowing the ship down he checked the stats on the ship. As he did he remembered two days ago when he received a transmission from Bail Organa. Bail had informed Obi-Wan that things with the clone war had gotten worse on Alderaan and that his services in the army was needed once again. Obi-wan sighed again as this memory flashed in his mind. He exited hyperspace and looked out at Alderaan. It looks to small and peaceful so far away he thought. As he thought a song began playing in his mind:

From a distance, the world looks blue and green,
>And the snow-capped mountains white.
From a distance, the ocean meets the stream,
>And the eagle takes to flight.
From a distance, there is harmony,
>And it echos through the land.
It's the voice of hope, it's the voice of peace,
>It's the voice of every man.

>From a distance, we all have enough,
And no one is in need.

>There are no guns, no bombs, no disease,
No hungry mouths to feed.

>From a distance, we are instruments,
Marching in a common band;

>Playing songs of hope, playing songs of peace,
They're the songs

of every man.
>God is watching us,
God is watching us,
>God is watching us from a distance.
From a distance, you look
like my friend,
>Even though we are at war.
From a distance I just can't comprehend,
>What all this fighting is for.
From a distance, there is
harmony,
>And it echos through the land.
It's the hope of hope, it's the love of love,
>It's the song of every man.

> Obi-Wan shook his head and began once again began flying toward Alderaan. If only it was that perfect. If only he thought.
